Job Description

We are currently hiring a smart and dynamic professional for our Professional Services team EMEA. You will be located at our offices in Merelbeke (Ghent), but will be working at the customer's site abroad most of your time (in Europe).

As a Technical BI Consultant with strong database and data modelling knowledge, you will take responsibility for the entire range of technical aspects of our banking customer projects during the software implementation and interfacing cycle. You will be responsible for interface management, complex technical platform design, reporting, project follow-up, etc. You will translate the client's needs into technical specifications, implement our software solutions and assure a constant follow-up and evaluation.

Your responsibilities:

- Complete the implementation of our product(s) at the customer's site, according to the given standards

- Develop the functional requirements provided by the business consultant(s), assuring the client with the best technical set up to use our product(s) (interfaces, reports, ETL, technical platforms, etc.)
- Carry our functional acceptance and integration acceptance tests, performance tuning and benchmarks
- Develop automation tools, utilities and components to enhance the integration of our solution with customers
- Document newly implemented features
- Work closely together with the business consultant(s) at the client's site, monitor working relationships closely, answer questions and give trainings or presentations
- Keep yourself up to date in your field.

Qualifications and Skillset

Education:

- University Degree in a technical discipline (ICT)
- A degree or course work in Economics or Finance is considered an advantage

Essential:

- Strong proven working knowledge of databases (T-SQL and/or Oracle)
- Strong knowledge of ETL and Data Warehousing technologies along with Data Modelling best practices
- Demonstrable experience in a client-facing role
- Ability to design mappings for Data Capture, Staging, Cleansing, Transforming, Loading, and Auditing
- Affinity with or interest in a banking context
- Knowledge in programming languages is desirable
- Fluency in English (written and oral), other languages are a plus
- Ability and willingness to travel and work on international projects.

Personal traits

- Excellent team player, customer-minded with good communication and presentation skills
- Focused on finding solutions
- Ability to learn fast and work autonomously in an international environment
- Adaptable to change and at ease in a quickly evolving context
- Obsessed by quality and passionate about his/her work
- Committed to accuracy and completeness.

Our offer

We offer you a position in a team-based, international, leading financial organization. Within Wolters Kluwer Financial Services, you will find straightforward communication, a fast-paced work environment and challenging projects. Your know-how will be rewarded with interesting career opportunities and a competitive salary package.
